Goouch, Thomas, d. 1836.

Plain truth vindicated and asserted: the fallacy of man-made rules of faith detected, and the faith of Christ alone maintained and exalted. In divers reflections on a book entitled "The end of religious controversy," (alleged to be published by "The Rev. [John] M[ilner]—D. D.—F. S. A.") ... Likewise, a defence of the Albigenses, with a remark upon Grier's Reply, and an appeal to Protestants and Dissenters ... Written by Thomas Goouch ... Waterford [Ireland] Printed by S. Smith & son, 1830.

Goouch, Thomas, d. 1836.

The poor man's claim to a part in the land of life for evermore. The righteousness of faith's speaking asserted. The voice of unbelief detected and rejected. Some of the sins of Babylon brought into remembrance, by the reading of a controversy about the spreading of the Scriptures; with some observations on a book written by A. O'Callaghan, styled Rev. A. M. master of the College of Kilkenny, called, "Thoughts on the tendency of Bible societies ..." Written by Thomas Goouch. Waterford [Ireland] Printed for the author by J. Bull, 1817.

Goouch, Thomas, d. 1836.

The righteousness of the Lord's judgments asserted; or, A call to such as love to fare sumptuously every day ... A hint to merchants, traders and lawyers; and to such, as (in Babel's language) are called the nobility and gentry; but above all, to those called clergy ... Also an earnest expostulation with such as speak of emancipation. And an appeal to the rulers of these realms: written by one of the meanest of their subjects ... Thomas Goouch. "Gorges has been ... blamed for ... appropriating Johnson's 'Wonder-working Providence' of Sion's Saviour in New England, published by N. Brook in 1654 ... We are now ... enabled to explain this matter and clear Gorges of the imputation ... Johnson's book belonged to Brook, and not being swift of sale, after four years, when publishing Gorges' book, he took upon himself the responsibility of working ... off his dead stock. As soon as Gorges found out this trick of his publisher he inserted in the 'Mercurius Publicus', newspaper of the 18th Sept. 1660, the following: 'Advertisement. I, Ferdinando Gorges, the entitled author of a late book called 'America painted to the life', am injured in that additional part, called 'Sion's Saviour in New England' (as written by Sir Ferdinando Gorges ,publish since his decease, by his grand-child Ferdinando Gorges esquire,) that being none of his, and formerly printed in another place, the true owner'."—Henry Stevens, Stevens's historical collections, 1861, pt. 1, p. 36. "The influence of France upon English poetry", which is not in any sense a profile, was published in a French translation made by Henry D. Davray, in the Mercure de France and then as a separate brochure. The profiles are reprinted in part from the Fortnightly review, the Contemporary review, the International quarterly review, the Saturday review, the Daily chronicle, and Cosmopolis. cf. Pref.

2 pts. in 1 v. 34cm.

Collection of engraved plates, without title-page or letterpress, consisting of two sets (quoted by Adelung, Fortsetz. u. ergänzungen zu Jöchers Gelehrten-lexico, with titles, "Thesaurus conchiliorum tabb. sen. XLIX continens, quorum VI priores, stellas marinas et coralia, cuetera testaceos univalvia turbinata representant. tomical and zoological plates is exceedingly rare and that the three copies which he had seen contained only 42 conchological and 56 or 60 anatomical and zoological plates.

The present copy contains in its first part 60 plates including one portrait ("Christophorus Gottwaldt m. n. Phys. Civ. Gedan."); one frontispiece (initials C G M in medallion within flowery design "C. Gottwald ... inv. et sculp."); one plate (view of the museum); 7 plates (anatomical and other instruments); 40 plates (anatomical objects and curiosities) and one plate (oak with excavated tree in full foliage). Five plates, including two folded, are double; one plate (intestinum duodenum) is printed on both sides. One of the two plates representing the salivary ducts of man (marked ⊕ according to the manuscript list of plates in the present copy) is wanting. The 2d part has 49 plates, 6 of which represent starfishes and corals, the others shells. A manuscript not in Dutch on the fly leaf of the 2d part states that over 40 of the 49 plates were printed in 1,000 copies and were to be sold privately in the house of the late Johann Christoph Gottwald, son of Christoph, in Danzig; that 21 plates designed, but not as yet engraved, were with the 49 engraved plates to form a work "De testaceis turbinatis et non turbinatis", for which some prolegomena and letterpress existed in manuscrip. A Dutch note by the same hand on the fly leaf of the 1st part states that a set of 62 copper plates was to be sold privately in Danzig, of which 1000 copies were printed, with letterpress and description of the plates in manuscript. This last note is followed by a manuscript list of the plates in the first part. The collection itself was bought by Peter the Great and placed in the Museum of St. Petersburg. cf. Murray, Museums.
